

The Wall and The Green Line

“I’d like to share with you an American saying,” says Israeli combatant Avner Wishnitzer, loosely quoting Robert Frost, “High walls make good neighbors.... But as everyone knows, high walls on your neighbors land does not make good neighbors, it makes very angry neighbors.”

This map shows the location of the wall designed to defend Israel from suicide bombing attacks. Says Avner “... had the wall been on the 1967 Green Line, it would be another thing, but its not...”
